COMMENTS:
I am writing in support of this planning application as a neighbouring resident.

Although the units are visible from my property, I have no concerns whatsoever about their appearance, positioning or visual impact on the surrounding area.

With summersbecoming increasingly warmer, air conditioning is becoming more popular in residential properties across the UK. It is now a familiar sight on homes and buildings.

Also the fact that they heat too is a positive as it is better for the environment.

I fully support this application and would be pleased to see it approved.
