COMMENTS:
Replacement fencing - We're in support of the replacement fencing being left in place. The replacement fencing that was put in a couple of years ago looks better than the previous fencing did that, from memory, was worn/broken in places. The new fencing does not look out of place in its rural setting and has trees in front of it on the fencing facing the road and vegetation down the side of the fence next to the bridlepath. I would imagine that a fence there is key for privacy, security and to keep the deer out. There is also precedent of other planning approved 6ft fencing along Bunces Shaw at our house and at the Chatters.
New gates - we also have no objection to the new gates that are wooden and again look fine in a rural setting. There are also other houses in Bunces Shaw that have gates at the entrance to their house and so the new gate does not look out of character.
