COMMENTS:

I am objecting the to proposed site for a number of reasons:

The old bath road is not wide enough to accommodate large tankers coming and going - with very dangerous bends approaching the site. Large vehicles already park on the road making passing extremely dangerous. The footpaths around this area are very narrow around this area with large vehicles turning they will encroach onto the footpaths.

The extra volume of traffic will add to the already heavy flow of traffic. Not to mention the extra noise from these vehicles.

The area is a nature area however this area is also an area that floods extensively.

When speedy fuels were previously using the site before the smell of fuel was over powering.

I do not feel this site is not the right site to be having such vehicles and storage of fuel. Especially as the area is a nurture area and leading into the village of Twyford.
