COMMENTS:

As a teenager living nearby, I'm really worried about the impact this will have on our community. Extending the construction hours until 11 PM on weekdays means more noise in the evenings when we're trying to relax or do homework. For those of us studying for GCSEs and A-levels, this is especially tough. These exams are crucial for our future, determining our opportunities for further education and careers. It's already hard enough to concentrate with the current hours, and this will just make it worse.

This change will also mess up our routines. Families with young kids and older people will struggle even more with the noise. Plus, more construction activity means more traffic and safety issues, especially when it's dark. This makes it dangerous for everyone, including us teens who might be out in the evenings.

The plan doesn't seem to consider how stressful and disruptive this will be for all of us. It's important to think about the well-being of the residents, not just the development.

Please keep the current working hours to protect our community's health, safety, and quality of life.
