

PHOENIX PARK

Viewpoint 4
Footpath east of Church Hill, Hurst

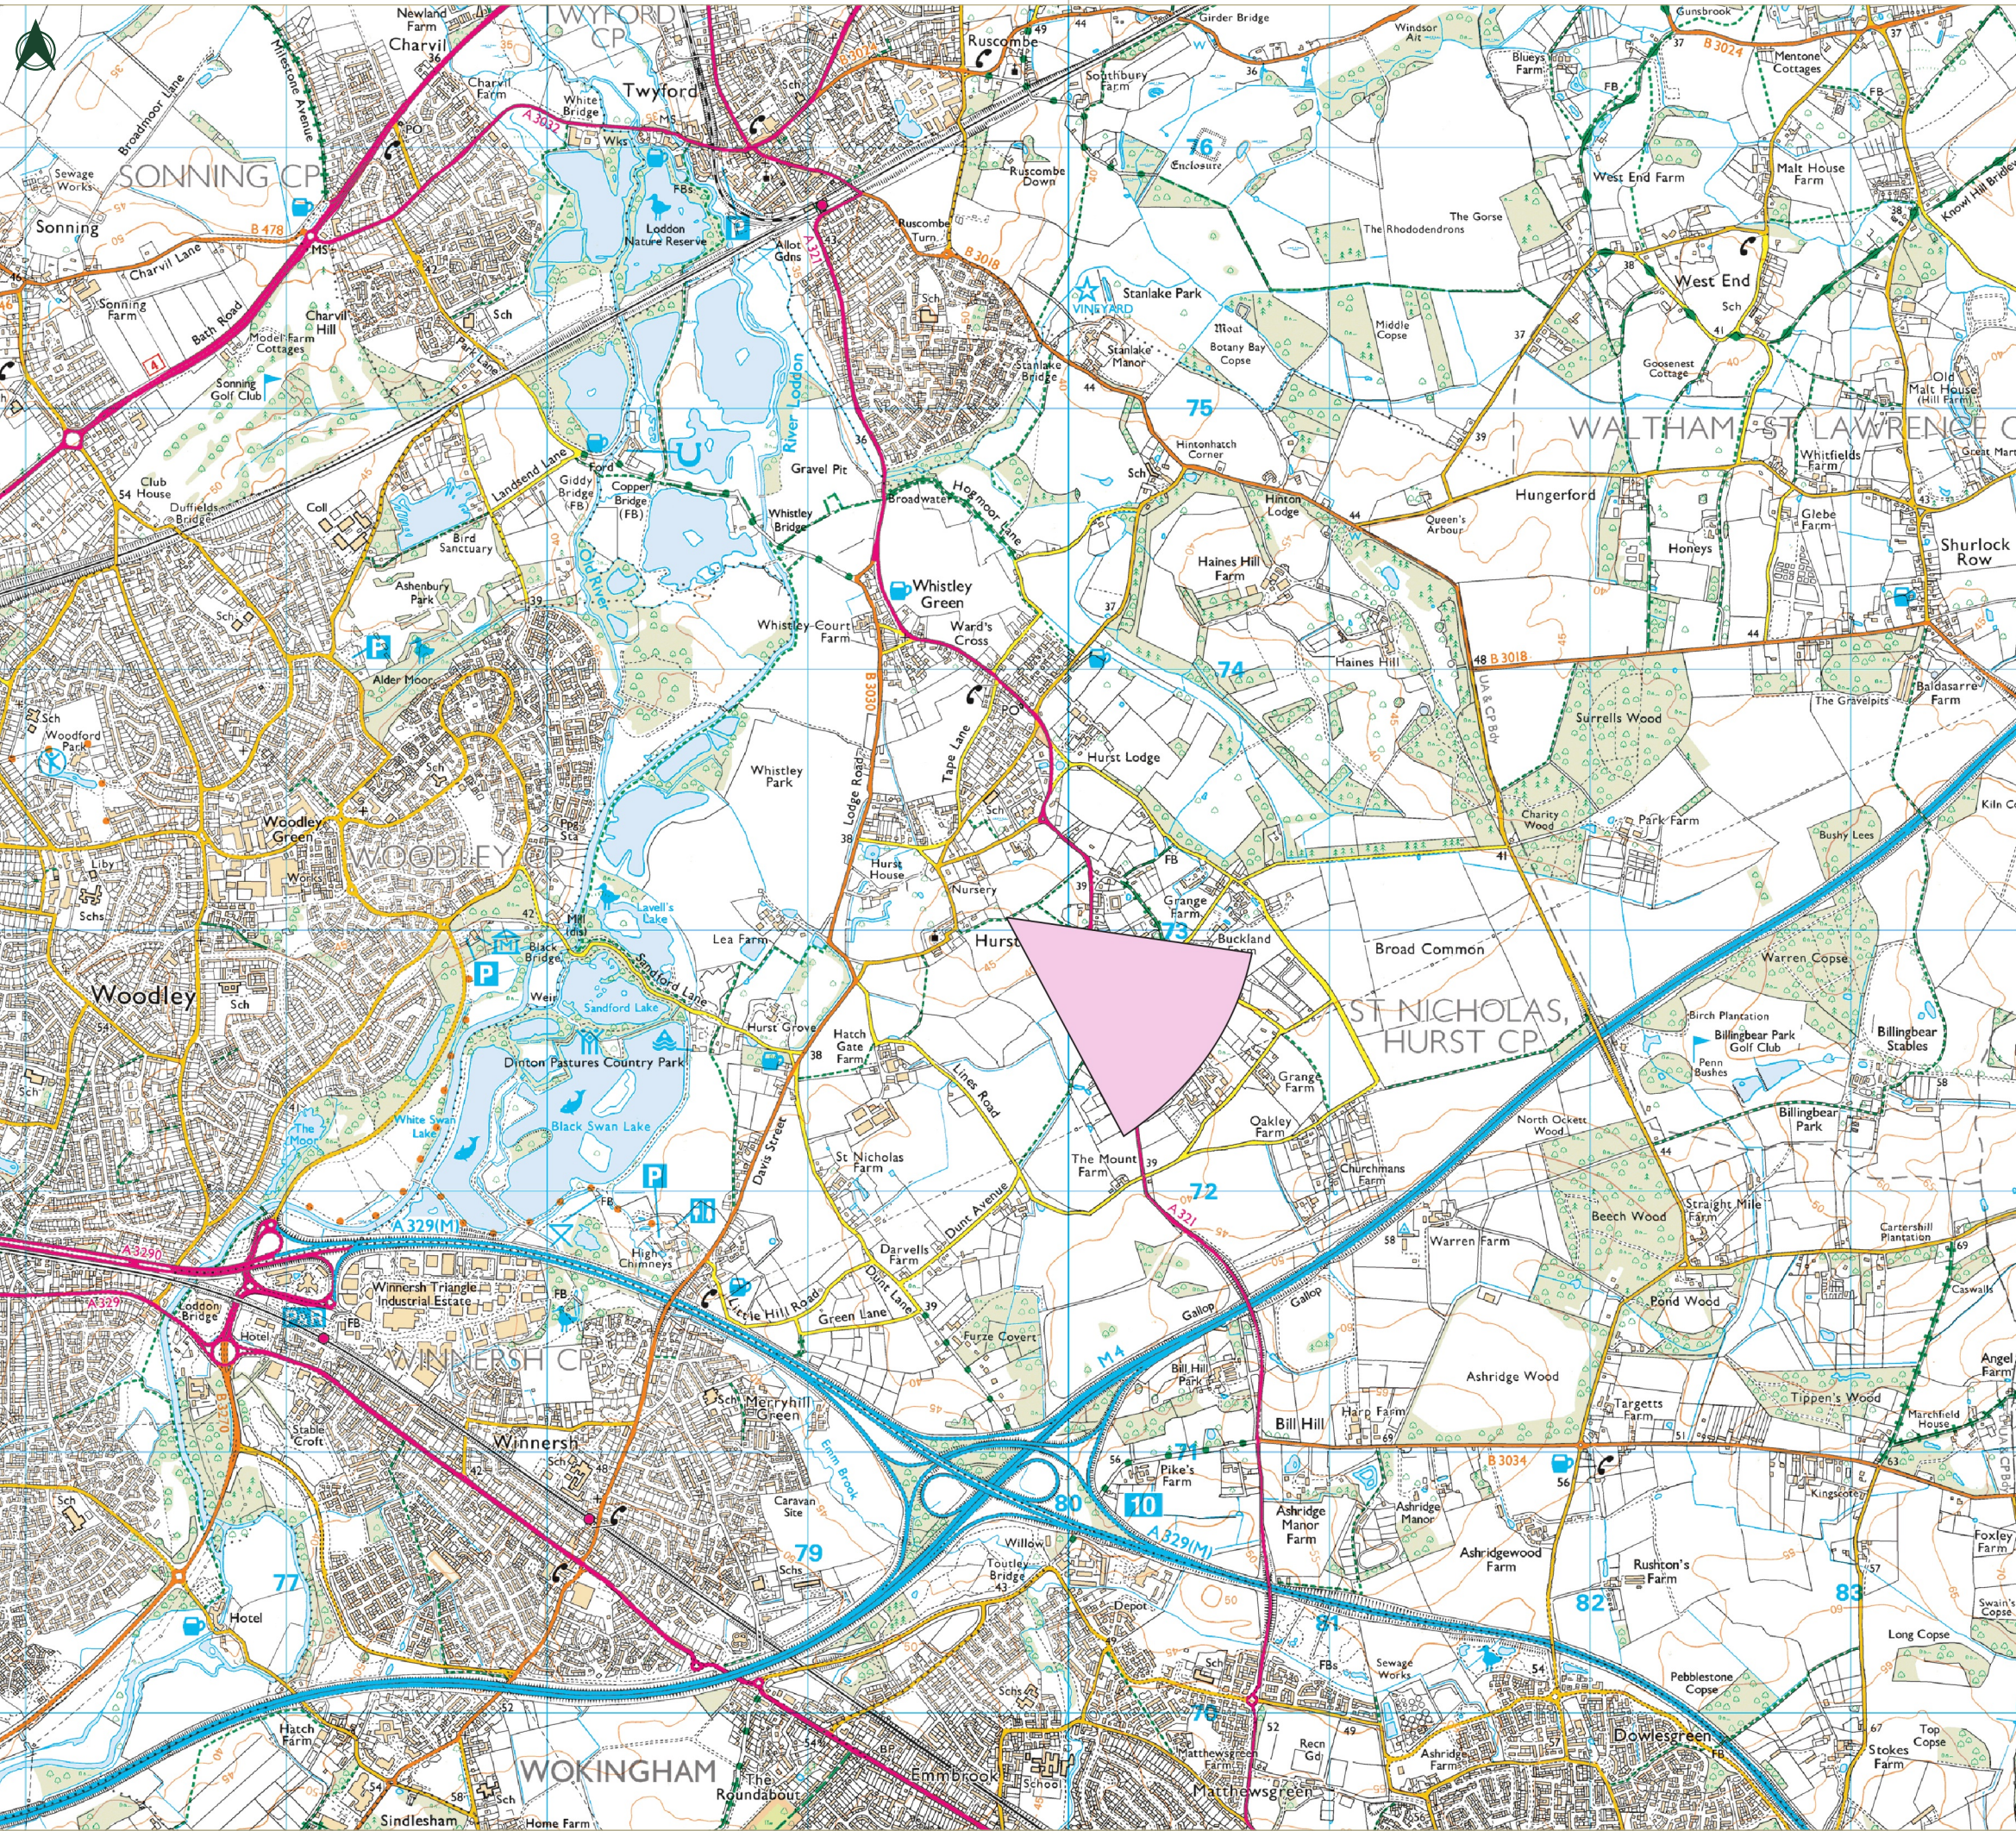

Existing View
This view looks across an arable field from the public footpath on the edge of properties located at Church Hill, Hurst. The fields drops gently away from the properties, with a very well wooded landscape seen on the lower ground. Individual properties and clusters of agricultural buildings are visible set within the edge of the wooded area, and pole mounted electricity lines cross the field in the foreground. In the wider view, the tops of pylons can be seen above the wooded skyline.

Predicted Changes to Views
The proposed masts would be visible above the treed skyline. The pole mounted electricity lines would continue to be the tallest vertical element in the view.
