COMMENTS:

I am writing to strongly condemn the consideration and planning application for the fuel depot. This is an outrage and cannot even begin to comprehend the potential for environmental damage. Just imagine the impending devastation to the area if the fuel depot was to have a spillage or even if human error resulted in their product discharging into the surrounding land and water courses. As a member of the local fishing club I feel strongly about the high risk that this will pose. The waterways in the UK already suffer great pollution so why oh why is this even a consideration? It will change the dynamic of the local area with noise pollution, added traffic pollution, light pollution and the disgraceful potential for fuel discharge/ waste into the environment the list of negatives is in my opinion certainly need to be considered
