COMMENTS:

This vast building development will impact greatly on South Reading, as has the Shinfield film studios already. The countryside around Arborfield is being rapidly minced up with building developments, I find this very sad. Ramblers would frequent the countryside in this area not so long ago. Local people who don't want to have to drive ten miles or so to actually access the countryside and of course the wildlife which is being decimated will be greatly affected if this vast project takes place. Surely the development can be scaled down a bit? I have read of a new school being built in the area and then there are no pupils to fill the school. Yes, the UK is very overcrowded now but mainly with adults. I think more thought needs to go into building the 2 primary schools and a secondary school. There is so little countryside in this area now that the Mid Berks Ramblers conduct walks out of the local area.
