COMMENTS:

Some objections appear to stem from misunderstandings about the mosque's purpose and impact. The proposed development is not a 'megamosque' but a modest, much-needed facility for local worshippers. Independent assessments confirm that traffic and parking provisions are sufficient, and the design respects the area's character. Places of worship are protected under national planning policy (NPPF), and objections based on religion rather than planning merits cannot lawfully influence the decision. This mosque will be an asset, promoting social harmony and providing community services.
