COMMENTS:

Having read through the plans and the comments I object to this as we as a community have plenty of mosques and community centres within Reading and Wokingham. This specific location is not ideal. I read one particular comment about Aisha Masjid & Islamic Centre on London Road being too busy - well this begs the question how can this smaller site be suitable?! Also, would they sell off that site? It feels we as a Muslim community need to carefully think about our impact and decisions on buildings. It would be better for us to find a more suitable site, perhaps a former church or religious building or office which has parking and won't impact main commuter areas. Sites have become available in TVP would be more suitable. This is a very ill-advised and poorly timed/decided application so
