

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

The Google Earth image below shows the trees in proximity of the site/proposed extensions. They are on adjoining land, an access is not available to accurately plot their positions and height.

It is, therefore, difficult to determine if the trees would be within falling distance of the proposed extensions.

