COMMENTS:
Hello All,

I have gone through all the comments, and to be honest, many of them appear to be quite improper and not based on any substantial or professional grounds.

The garden is south-facing, and all properties receive an equal amount of light. There are already several similar designs on this street, and I do not believe our proposal will have any detrimental impact.

There are no issues relating to sunlight or overshadowing. There is also sufficient space for parking within the property, and the use of the driveway for cars or bikes will not cause any significant disturbance to neighbours.

If required, we are happy to include hedges or a higher fence to ensure additional privacy and maintain the character of the area.

The new design will complement the surroundings and create a more spacious and practical internal layout.

Kind regards
Shashi
