Based around Berkshire & Hampshire for the last few years, ██████████ recognised there was an increasing number of Clients who were willing invest significant time and money into livery, coaching and competitions. With this, Sillett Equestrian was initiated in September 2016 to meet their clients' needs.

2.2 The Future

The business currently has 11 Clients requiring professional livery and coaching for showjumping, the young horse program continues to develop with horses that have been bred, raised and produced by Sillett Equestrian with previous horses selling in Europe and some to America.

Sillett Equestrian continues to employ staff from local areas and support local suppliers for hay, feed, shavings, veterinary, physio and farrier services.

We are also able to provide clients with local hotels to stay in as some of the clients choose to stay over several days for intense periods of training, during this time we entertain them at local restaurants and pubs. We since added the decking area on the side of the log cabin to offer this service as our clients can have multiple horses and need an area to rest in between sessions and have access to washroom facilities.

We feel it is essential for onsite accommodation and living for the welfare of the horses, given we have a large number of horses on the land there must always be someone available at any time during the day or night to care for the horses in case of illness or problems. On occasions if treatment is no longer possible at home the horses must be transferred to a clinic. With the nature of the type of horses we are caring for our clients would be worried that the horses would be left unattended overnight and this would likely give them reason to leave. Alongside the welfare there is a security issue, as with all farms they are frequently targets for burglary and with expensive equipment for the horses and farm machinery on site this also adds to the necessity for onsite accommodation.
