COMMENTS:

Absolutely disastrous idea

Unsafe location: Storing 837,000+ litres (711 tonnes) of hazardous fuel beside a residential village and a nature reserve is inappropriate and dangerous.

poses Traffic hazards with countless vehicle movements per weekday, including large HGVs, would force lorries into oncoming traffic due to tight road geometry, creating severe accident risks on an already congested road used by children and pedestrians serious environmental risk: The site is unstable, flood-prone, and includes an outfall pipe draining into the River Loddon. Any fuel leakage would contaminate the river and nearby lakes.
