COMMENTS:

Thames Water will need to consider this application very carefully. Should the sewer system flow to the pumping station at Eversley it is almost certain that the notoriously inadequate infrastructure (from Longwater Lane to the Eversley pumping station) will be unable to cope. This sewer has a long history of failing with untreated effluent surcharging via the water courses & public footpath 33 into the river Long. Without significant upgrade to this creaking infrastructure there will be an uptick in pollution frequency to add to the already frequent events. A significant upgrade to this sewer is long overdue and in view of the size of the application it is something that needs to be seriously addressed.
