COMMENTS:

I understand and have no objection to demolishing the existing structure to rebuild a new property BUT..
The whole footprint of the proposed plans for 43 Old Bath Road are totally inappropriate in scale and style to all of the existing properties at this end of the road.

The building would be incongruous in all ways and could potentially cause problems with access and parking. There are already many cars parked in the street connected to this property and the massive increase in the footprint of the proposed building would inevitable mean more vehicles.
