Dear Sirs,

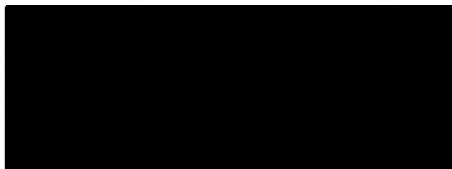

Re: Highfield Court, Waltham Road, Twyford, READING, RG10 0AA

I have inspected an Ash Tree which is sited at the above address, behind a garage block and is overhanging a neighbour's house and patio.

This tree is suffering from Ash die back, for which there is no cure. I have spoken to the neighbour's whose house and patio the tree overhangs, and they have seen very serious deterioration over the past two year and are very fearful for their property and members of their household, and for any family and/or friends who could be visiting, should a branch fall from the tree. They are also fearful that the entire tree could fail at any time.

I am a qualified and experienced tree surgeon with almost 20 years in the business. In view of the comments above, I would highly recommend that the tree is felled to ground level as soon as possible.

Yours faithfully,
