COMMENTS:

So another 79 houses, on top of the 81 houses already passed to build, in a small village with little or no infrastructure, no school, and one medical practice which is already struggling to cope. Without significant upgrade in roads, services gas, water, and electricity supplies, it's a development too far. The land is partly liable to flooding, and Trowes lane is only wide enough for one vehicle at a time. 79 new homes will probably incur a vast increase in vehicle movements as there is only a limited bus service to the village. It seems that the powers that be are more interested in meeting government house building targets, completely disregarding the objections of local residents and destroying a small village, and turning it into a small town, than doing what's right. Reject this ridiculous proposal, enough is enough!
