COMMENTS:

I strongly object to this development on a number of grounds, many of which have been documented by many other people formally raising objection on this site.

This planning application was brought to the attention of local residents only 4 to 6 weeks ago, although it is clear that the developer has been in conversation with Wokingham District Council and Planners for many months, if not years, refining the plan.

Since being made public to us, the local residents, its also become clear that the Council and Planning Department & Developers are also in detailed discussion with regards to the development of the adjacent field, known locally as the Charity Field. This area will probably also bring an additional 50 houses to the community and will also have an access issue, as to whether access should be via Old Forest Road or directly onto the purpose built Toutley Road, NWDR.

Surely we can ask and trust that the Council/Planners will demand a joined up plan that will take traffic from both developments directly onto the Distributor Road, with one sensible junction, as oppose to the village roads of Old Forest Road and Emmbrook as a whole?
