

Vintage Solid Oak Panelled Door with Large Metal Hinges and Wooden Sliding Catch

This wooden door is made from solid oak panels, it has large metal hinges and a wooden sliding catch. It could be used as a side or back door or as a door to an outbuilding. You could even use it as a garden gate if you treated the whole door. It is missing a handle on one side and it has natural wear and tear from usual use. The wood is sound, See Pictures for full condition. It could be used as it is or sanded and refinished any way you choose, it would make a great upcycle project. It would also make a great prop for a play, Tv show or film.
