COMMENTS:

The last thing Arborfield needs is another 111 houses and the additional traffic it will generate . The developments at the Garrison and those proposed at Hall Farm mean that already Arborfield will cease to be a village but instead a small town . The last thing Arborfield needs is another 111houses and the additional traffic they will generate. The developments at the Garrison and those proposed at Hall Farm already over provide housing in this area and it means Arborfield will no longer be a village but a small town .
