COMMENTS:

The revised plans do nothing to materially change my previous objections and comments. The number of houses has only reduced by two and in fact the change of layout creates more densely populated two bedroom houses which are less in keeping with the local area. Also, such properties would likely require access to amenities which do not exist in the local area (e.g. bus routes). Fundamentally, this development is not inline with local strategic plans, involves development on the countryside/nature and is therefore not appropriate.
