COMMENTS:

My concerns are more about how the Council handles these new developments. Often times, thousands of homes are added in with no additional schools, road networks, community services, etc. Higher concentration of people in an area with no amenities and exorbitant charges due to the Council not adopting the areas causes nothing but social angst and unwanted behaviours that residents are left to deal with. So dear councillors, aside from the homes being built, what would you do to alleviate the extortion of the residents and lack of amenities that follow? Thanks
