COMMENTS:

I live right next door to White Cottage, so I see day to day how the Hill family care for their home and the area around it. They've always been considerate neighbours, and the cottage is a bit of a landmark for many of us who walk past regularly.

This application makes sense from what I've seen, it's a thoughtful improvement that keeps the character of the cottage while making it more practical for a growing family and the people who visit them. The Hills are incredibly hospitable, and it's not unusual to see friends, family, and even community groups coming and going. Future proofing the property will genuinely help them continue to support others without putting any extra strain on the neighbourhood.

From my perspective, nothing in the plans causes any concern. If anything, it will tidy up a few awkward areas of the layout and make the place safer and more usable. I'm very happy to support it.
