COMMENTS:

I object to this proposed dwelling because the building they are proposing to knock down is in fact not a bin shed but a bike store (and has been for the last 15+ years) so where are people supposed to store bikes if they live in the upstairs maisonettes. Also the alleyway running by the side of the maisonettes is the emergency access out of our property and therefore unsafe for both me and my family if they were to build a dwelling in said location. The car park out the front of the property's is very small and therefore not suitable for large vehicles to offload materials and would reduce the size of the car park and parking spaces significantly. If this dwelling is to be approved will they factor in a new bike store and access to the rear of my property?
