COMMENTS:

Our current view of our neighbour is of the single storey garage and a fence for the full length of the building. This already has the effect of limiting the natural light for our dining room and lounge. The proposed development will be a two storey extension along the full length of our property and this will further restrict our access to natural light, especially since it will be two storey extension extending along the full length of our property. The gap between our two properties is quite narrow to begin with, I would estimate less than a metre and this will make the extension overbearing as well as restricting natural light. I would appreciate understanding how this can be considered acceptable considering the impact on our access to natural light and on the property value?
