COMMENTS:

I strongly object to this whole proposal.

The area is currently flooded, it is already considerably overdeveloped, no school places, not enough Drs appointments. Poor infrastructure and public transport options which already leads to horrendous traffic in the area. No more green spaces (planting new trees in a concrete city doesn't cut it). Destruction of historic habitats and wildlife. You are affecting people's quality of life. Reading university should be ashamed of themselves, all the land they have let be destroyed.

This nonsense from government about needing new housing when there are 700,000 empty properties and birth rates are going down. Will we soon have a saturation of poorly build, overpriced houses that are sat empty? But government met their ridiculous targets to boost the economy, please!

All this and then you try and get the scoping opinion out over Christmas, it really is a poor show WBC.
