COMMENTS:

I'd love to offer some constructive objection but as everyone knows this will just be rubber stamped regardless of the number and nature of any objections. As per the last planning meeting to discuss the proposal for another 50 houses in Arborfield. There will be some old bull in the application about mitigating the adverse affects (traffic, pollution, loss of green space, etc). Everyone knows it is lip service to the application process and that Arborfield has essentially been ear marked as the area in the borough that houses will be dumped on after the original garrison application for 1000's of houses and what is a few more. Yes, people always go on about how more houses are needed and Gov't targets. Fine, but there are plenty of other areas in Wokingham borough. Enough is enough.
