COMMENTS:

I am extremely concerned about the traffic hazard this poses. It's already dangerous enough outside that site with trucks waiting out on old bath road and people having to pass them when there is a corner right there. The traffic on that road at certain times of the day is heavy and this will only add to that. I also think this poses a huge threat to the lakes and all the wildlife that live there giving the amount of flooding and the risk of storing fuel on such a site. I honestly can't believe this is even been considered. This is simply not a safe site for a refuelling station and the additional traffic will impact on both charvil and twyford hugely
