COMMENTS:

The road running through Charvil and Twyford isn't suitable for HGVs coming through. It's already congested with traffic and the number of people using the pavement to walk to the station or taking kids to one of 4 schools. The pavements are narrow and already dangerous to add a HGV travelling at these times would be extremely dangerous. The old bath road isn't suitable for the number of HGVs that would be entering or exiting the site.
