COMMENTS:

As I understand it in the plans, the two storey part of the extension will be coming past level with our house and will have two windows on it.

This, from what I can see in the plans, feels as though it encroaches on our outdoor seating area directly, with our decking sitting precisely in the gap where the house encroaches. This will mean that the house (as I understand only 3m from our house), will be almost fully blocking the open space currently above that fence, and will have two windows overlooking directly into our space.

If this was just the one storey part of the extension, and the windows weren't there, I wouldn't have an objection to this.
