COMMENTS:

Can the applicant correct their parking plan? There is only about 10.25m from the front of the house to the existing footpath running past the front of 57 to 59, plus this space also provides vehicular access to No.59. From inspection on site, there only appears to be 5/5.5m currently available from the front of the house for a parking space. This development is renowned for the number properties that have been built with inadequate garages and inadequate length parking spaces in front.
