COMMENTS:

With all the new developments along the south distributor road I am concerned about continued destruction of the green spaces and wildlife habitat surrounding Wokingham. The 'replacement trees' along the south wokingham distributor road are already dead and are in no way a replacement for the massive oak trees and hedgerows that used to line easthampstead road. I object to this development. One of the greatest appeals about Wokingham was its 'Market town' feel and beautiful green spaces. By continuing to build hundreds of new houses, this will be lost, along with the wildlife forever.
