COMMENTS:

Given new houses are desperately needed, I support this application because it provides a mix of dwellings and also infrastructure and open space appropriate to the size of the development. I haven't read the application in detail, so it is unclear to me whether there is sufficient provision for parking and electric vehicle charging - I ask that these are given sufficient weight. Nor is it clear to me how well insulated the houses will be, and whether they will be built with integral solar panels and large batteries. Again, I ask that consideration be given to these aspects, in particular, noting the importance of battery storage for the winter months, as well as solar panels.
