COMMENTS:

There are other industrial sites well away from the beautiful country park which should be considered for this fuel depot. Charvil is an area prone to flooding anyway and with climate change this is happening more regularly. It will take just one mistake and we will have thousands of animals and bird life killed or hurt by the fuel pouring into the lakes. The Old Bath Road is a narrow road and I regularly have my sight lines blocked by huge lorries parked by the tyre building when driving on this road. Hundreds more will not help. Please do not let this go ahead.
