COMMENTS:

I am dismayed to see that a further tranche of documents from the developer dated late May have been posted to the planning portal. Given that the public consultation period has ended why is this being allowed?

Of immediate concern is that the developer has posted a car park management plan in which it says that the proposed car park is to be for the "benefit of the development and wider community". This is NOT in accordance with the planning permission given by the planning inspector who stated that the car park was "for the local primary school".

I trust that the council will not allow the developer to vary the terms of the planning permission during the reserved matters stage.
