COMMENTS:

I wish to express support for this well-designed annex. The choice of materials (heritage clay tiles, matching bricks and oak timber cladding) demonstrates a clear commitment to a high-quality, sympathetic design. The building reads as a subordinate addition, complementing rather than competing with the main listed cottage. This is exactly the type of sensitive, context-led design we should encourage within the borough.

Importantly, the proposal also enables those with restrictive mobility needs to enjoy and appreciate both the historic character of White Cottage and the benefits of modern accessible accommodation in one location. The annex provides an inclusive solution that protects the fabric of the listed building while still allowing vulnerable family members to remain close to their support network. This aligns strongly with the Council's aim to promote accessible, adaptable accommodation without harming heritage assets.
