

PLANNING REF : 260226

Are these plans a joke?

The layout of the proposed roundabout makes the New Bath Road look like its four lanes wide.

Any local resident will tell you that, during the morning rush, traffic backs up to the Charvil roundabout, going East, and in the afternoon it backs up from the Charvil lights back to the current Wargrave roundabout.

This new roundabout will have to accommodate, probably in excess of an extra 300 cars from the new families on the ridiculous proposed development.

I can foresee, access from Wargrave Road onto the New Bath road being chaotic.
