Dear Heidi Lynch

Reference: CIR/2002/7898, Land at Junction of Rowcroft Barracks and Princess Marina Drive. Proposed relocation of camp entrance and erection of new barrier and guard post

Although the Parish Council had no objections to the proposal members questioned the appearance of the proposed guard post in that as a great deal of the Garrison is now occupied by civilians would it not be more appropriate for the external appearance of the building to look less like a porta-cabin?

Yours sincerely

Application: CIR/2002/7898

Appraisal:

The proposed development is located in the countryside and involves the relocation of a camp entrance and the erection of a new barrier and guard post. The guard post is a single storey building of 15.5m x 7.55m in floor area. There is also a canopy over one end where the payment window is located. It is 1.65m in height.

Despite being in the countryside, the surrounding area contains several buildings, as it is located within Arborfield Garrison. It is therefore considered a new single storey building will therefore not look out of character in the area where it is located.

It is therefore considered that the proposal will have no impact on the area and therefore no objection is raised.

There are no highways objections to the proposals.
