COMMENTS:

I think the changes to the planning application are very minor and the points that I made in my previous objection still hold. In their literature Catesby refer to facilities in the village listing the school which is heavily subscribed and cannot be extended and the shop at the Greyhound which is really more of a delicatessen and while being of high quality they do not stock basic household products or everyday food items.

It is is very hard to live here without every adult having access to a car. The doctors surgery has to be reached by car as there is no footpath on Jubilee Road and it is dangerous to walk down this road on foot. Also the closest station is Crowthorne also risky to walk to as again there is no proper footpath on much of the journey and certainly extremely dangerous after dark.

This area was not included in the Finchampstead development plan that was recently agreed. What was the point of spending money on a development plan if it is thrown out at the first challenge?
