Planning Issues : LB in a cons area.

Amendments received : 1/9/2000.

Application Number: F/2000/1112 + LB/2000/1113.

Appraisal :

• Development - single storey rear extension to replace existing rear extn (conservatory). (approved under consent 14443 + 14444-LB)
Existing : conservatory + brick built extn with an unvented pitched roof.
Proposed (5123/03) was to keep the same shape of the extn as existing → had concerns over this as a 3.7m high - side wall of the extn would have faced N° 36 and would have been overbearing. It would have replaced a glass structure.
- Revised plans received (5123/03A) :
with a change to the roof shape from  to this reduces the height facing N° 36 to 2.7m (eaves) with a pitched roof 3.5m height.
The revised plans also show some changes to the rear elev. Overall, the proposed extn would be the same as existing eg 7.6m from the 2 storey element of the dwelling

It is now considered that the proposed development would have no adverse effects upon neighbouring properties in terms of overbearing/overshadowing/overlooking.

In terms of the listed building/conservation area, the development is considered to be acceptable (subject to the approval of materials) & whereas the previous was felt not to enhance the LB - The revised plans have overcome any concerns.

In terms of the streetscene - the development is acceptable as it replaces something which is already existing & would enhance the main dwelling.

- Key issues overbearing/overshadowing issues with neighbour are not valid.

- originally - outbuilding was part of historic interest of house -

- 8ft fence - tree - in next door - feels that change from conserv style to brick would have no additional adverse impact to neighbour.
- wants garden room aspect retained & keep shape as existing.
  LD sees what mean
- Alternatives
  Increase windows in side elev to a higher level? (would need drugs)
  - replace with better constructed conservatory?
  - changes to roof - pitched not inverted - applicants would prefer not to do this. (reconsidering whole room (esm))
  - reducing wall height - not v. feasible due to min degree of pitch
- will be sending in some sketches to show perhaps reduced ridge height & windows inc'd in height (side elev) to reduce massing.

Dear Madam

Planning Application Number F/2000/1112 & LB/2000/1113
34 Rose Street Wokingham.

The Society have viewed the plans and site relating to the above application for the dismantling of an existing timber and glass conservatory and rebuilding it with brick to match the original existing 2' high base, which will make it a more substantial extension, and have the following comments.

- The overall size and proportions in no way differ from the existing conservatory, and if materials to be used are in keeping with the building - i.e. same size and colour of brick (use old stock) then building upwards off the present 2' base should blend in well.
- One point that was not clear on the application is what type of window frames are proposed? - we would hope these would be timber.
- This proposal will not intrude on neighbouring properties and therefore the Society would have no objection to this rear extension and porch being looked upon favourably.

Yours faithfully

Dear Sir,

RE: PLANNING APPLICATION F2000/1112 & LB/2000/1113

I would refer to my recent planning application with regard to my above residential property.

The application has been described as a demolition of a conservatory however, this is misleading, as a substantial part of the conservatory is to be retained whilst its nature becomes a garden room rather than a conservatory. The conservatory is currently based on a tiled floor which is to be retained and also a two foot high base wall in brick which is also to be retained. The size of the room area of the conservatory/garden room is to remain the same. I would also like to emphasise that the new garden room is to be in matching brickwork and tile to fit in with the existing extension.

Also I believe that the plans submitted mention an adjacent public right of way, however, the accessway to the rear northside of my property is not a public right of way, but a private right of way owned by the Luff Group.

I believe the plans will solve the water leakage problems of the property and enable the proper internal refurbishment of the toilet area shown on the plans.

Please ensure this letter is read out to the committee considering the application and if you have any queries on the above, please contact us.

Yours faithfully ,
