COMMENTS:

Arborfield & Newland Parish Council does not object to this application in principle recognising that, although large, it is within a plot that supports such an extension without adverse impact.

However, we would like to draw to the attention of the planning officer that, although we do not necessarily object, we can see no justification for the conversion of the existing outhouse into a larger building that appears to be intended for residential habitation. Nor would it seem that any of this increase has been included in the volume calculation for permitted development.
