Ash Tree. Fell to ground level and poison stump.

The Ash Tree is suffering from Ash die back, no treatment is possible. This tree, which is sited to the rear of garages belonging to Highfield Court, overhangs the house and patio of a neighbouring property. The owners of the neighbouring property state that the tree has considerably deteriorated over the last two years, and they are fearful that it will either drop branches or fail complete, with the possibility of damage to their property and to members of the household, pets, or a visiting member of the public.
